Weather alert

OXON: A cold weather alert has been issued for the whole of England and Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) is asking residents to check on their neighbours.

The Met Office put out its second highest warning (amber/ level 3) on Tuesday and it runs until tomorrow afternoon.

Emergency planning officer at OCC Carole Mackay said: "When there's a cold weather alert of this nature we always ask residents to check if neighbours are okay - particularly if they are elderly or vulnerable."

The council also has been sending out gritters, which will cover 1,200 miles of road, the same distance as London to Iceland.

OCC grit all A, B and C roads while Highways England cover the A34, A43 and the M40.

Man found dead in gas container

AN Abingdon worker found in a gas container died at a science facility in Harwell Campus.

Russell Walker, 42, of Crosslands Drive, was an experimental hall coordinator at Diamond Light Source in Femi Avenue before his death on January 5.

At the opening of his inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in Oxford last Thursday, assistant coroner Alison Thompson said Mr Walker was found by a colleague in a gas container in an industrial gas storage area. She said: "At 1.10pm, he was pronounced dead by a paramedic with the cause of death ruled to be from carbon monoxide poisoning."

Andrew Harrison, CEO of Diamond Light Source, said: "Russell was an esteemed member of the Diamond team and well known to many of us. He will be sorely missed."

Diamond Light Source spokesman Isabelle Boscaro-Clarke said: "We are not free to discuss the details of the case until the coroner has issued the result of his inquest."

A full inquest is due on May 17.

Shop front refit

BICESTER: Sainsbury's have applied to refit shopfronts throughout Crown Walk shopping centre.

The precinct, which dates back to the 1980s, has struggled to let shop units in the past few years. Now owner Sainsbury's want to "rejuvenate" the area to attract new stores.

The supermarket chain, which opened its Bicester store in 2013, said the work would mean the units will have a consistent appearance.

1940s throwback

BICESTER: People are invited to don 1940s costume and step back in time as Oxfordshire Youth Big Band perform the music of Glenn Miller.

Taking place at St Edburg's Church, Church Street, on Friday, February 12, from 7pm, tickets cost £10 for adults and children under 16 are free.

Estate given a winter clean

BICESTER'S King's End estate has been given a cleanup this week as part of Cherwell District Council's 'blitz' initiative.

The council's green team targeted litter, fly-tipping and dog mess, graffiti and abandoned vehicles.

It came as Cherwell's lead member for clean and green Cllr Debbie Pickford urged residents to "take responsibility for their actions" and clear up after themselves and their pets.

She said: "Since we first launched the blitz initiative 10 vears ago we have removed hundreds of tonnes of rubbish by hand and through the use of sweepers.

"However, it seems that even after 10 years our services are still needed as people continue to litter, graffiti and spoil the environment for others.

"We know lots of people take pride in where they live but there are still the odd few who ruin things for so many.

"For our 10th year it would be great if we could finally get everybody to take responsibility for their actions."

On Friday, officers will host a recycling roadshow at the shops off Shakespeare Drive from 3pm.

Residents will be able to get advice on waste and recycling.

Tributes paid to ex-Oxford councillor

COUNCILLORS have paid tribute to former Oxfordshire county councillor Barbara Gatehouse, who died on January 12 aged 89.

Cllr Gatehouse served as Labour councillor for Blackbird Leys from 2001 to 2005 and Leys and Lye from 2005 to 2009.

Leader of the county council's Labour group, Liz Brighouse, said: "She was a very dear friend and colleague who had a great sense of humour.

"Barbara was a very hard working councillor. She put in long hours for the people she represented and on subjects she cared about, such as homes for older people and adult social care."

During her time on the council, Cllr Gatehouse served on a number of committees including the health and community services scrutiny committee.

She was also a city councillor, holding the role of Sheriff in 1990 and Lord Mayor in 1993.

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Ian Hudspeth, said: "She was very clearly passionate about the areas of Oxford she served.

"Although we may have differed politically I knew she had her community at the centre of everything she worked for."

Leaders back driverless cars on Oxford roads

PLANS to use driverless cars on Oxford roads were backed by city leaders during a meeting last week.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth raised the idea in a presentation at a meeting of leaders and major companies at the Saïd Business School last Thursday.

He said: "It's something I'd like to see. It would be interesting to see how driverless cars interact with driven cars, because a lot of accidents are human error."

Oxford University has been working on the technology at Begbroke Science Park near Yarnton. Engineers unveiled their Bowler Wildcat 4X4 driverless car in 2011.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "The technology is developing quite quickly. We know we've got experts at Oxford and Oxford Brookes [universities] and if they want to test them out in Oxford we should welcome it. It's still about 4 or 5 years away, but I think they'll be on the roads by the end of this decade."

The Mobile Robotics Group at Oxford University is spearheading the technology led by Professor Paul Newman.

Driverless cars use lasers and cameras to map their surroundings so cars 'remember' roads they have driven on.

OXON: More women are choosing to have same-sex weddings then men, according to an Oxford University study.

The study also says there was no rush for couples in civil partnerships to marry, as during the first half of 2015, only 5,300 couples converted their partnership to a marriage.

Of all same-sex couples who formed a civil in partnership by June last year, it reveals one in eight had converted their partnership to a same-sex marriage by that time.

£21k fine for Oxford landlord

A LANDLORD from Oxford has been fined £21,000 and ordered to pay £4,869 in costs for renting houses to multiple occupants without the correct licence.

Mohammed Yousef, 58, of Iffley Road, appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on January 6 after two of his properties were found to be houses in multiple occupancy (HMO), with up to eight people living in each house.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "Some landlords are taking advantage of the city's housing shortage to rent out unlicensed and badly maintained properties to multiple occupants."

The two properties on Dene Road in Lye Valley were also found to be poorly maintained, with mould and damp discovered in one of them.

The council began investigations into Yousef in May last year when he failed to renew the licences for his properties.

He then didn't respond to the council's requests to submit an application for an HMO license.

Cllr Price added: "I am pleased by the substantial fine charged in this particular case.

"It serves as a deterrent to other landlords who are operating unlicensed HMOs or considering doing so."

£675,000 boost

OXFORD: A total of £675,00 has been awarded to senior Oxford researchers to improve NHS care in the county.

The John Radcliffe Hospital's Oxford Biomedical Research Centre and the Oxford Biomedical Research Unit in Musculoskeletal Disease at the Botnar Research Centre in Headington, both part of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust. are set to receive the funds from the National Institute for Health Research.

The units will receive the funds over three years, to be shared amongst 15 researchers.

Homes approved

KINGSTON BAGPUIZE: A plan for 280 homes in an Oxfordshire village was given the go-ahead last Wednesday despite objections from local councils.

The scheme for land south of the A420 and east of the A415 in Kingston Bagpuize was approved by Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee at a meeting last night at The Beacon in Portway, Wantage.

Council planning officer Stuart Walker recommended councillors to approve it.

Bagpuize Kingston Southmoor Parish Council had objected to the plan, saying it was unsustainable as more than 700 homes were planned for the village including this scheme.

Parish chairman Brian Forster said: "It will destroy the village and the sense of community that has existed here for the last couple of centuries."

Five residents also submitted letters of objection to the Vale airing concerns about the number of houses, the impact on local schools and a shortage of doctors in the area.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Elevant aims to elevate its name in eyes of music fans

YOU could be excused for not having By James Richings heard of rock band Elevant.

But, despite that, the members of the three-piece will be aiming to make their voices heard when they perform at The Wheatsheaf in Oxford on Thursday, January 30.

Since their inception in 2014, the three musicians - Michael Edward (guitar many years to come. and vocals), Tom Shand (drums) and Hannah Lodge (bass) - have released a reputation of having some of the most two albums, with their third album, 'There is a Tide', due to be released in March.

Lead singer Michael Edward told the shows. Guardian: "I originally formed the band best musicians I knew to play with me.

"I had lived with Tom the previous year, and after our first bassist Joe had to move away, we poached Hannah people giving a tight, loud as hell rock from the band Indigo Moon because we and roll show with lots of passion," he thought she was tops.

"We didn't know her all that well at the time but touring changes that very fast. We're practically all family now."

Since settling on the hard rock, postpunk genre, the three musicians will be travelling across the UK to make their Doors at the High Street pub open at name known among music fans.

Their original self-written tracks, with the songs being produced, recorded and released under their own record label Elevant Music Limited, proves that Michael, Tom and Hannah plan on being in the music business for

And with the group aiming to create fun shows available, their eagerness to go on tour shows, with their gig in Oxford being the first of 14 planned

"We called ourselves Elevant as a recording project and just found the because elephants are cool animals but if you call your band that, you become very hard to Google," Michael said.

"Everyone will see three very sweaty also added. "If you want an approximation of our sound, I guess you could say we're psychedelic? But we're not really. We're just odd. You can tell our iPods go on forever."

This is the band's first gig in Oxford. 7pm and tickets cost £3.50.

Basic car maintenance courses at Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs Free to our customers

Owning a car is not always simple – but basic car maintenance is!

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs will be running free evening 'basic car maintenance classes' in 2016. Open to men and women, please bring in your own car, so we can show you where everything is and you never have the embarrassment of calling on roadside assistance for a minor problem again. Classes will be once a month from 7pm till 8pm on the following dates.

- Tuesday 9th February
- Wednesday 9th March
- · Thursday 7th April
- Monday 9th May

The course will include checking:

- Oil Water & windscreen wash levels
- Antifreeze
 Tyre pressure & tread depths
- Light bulbs
 Windscreen wiper blades

We will also give you some advice on how often you should be checking these things and some professional tips about your car and what to look out for in specific vehicles.

Plus it will give you a chance to talk to a qualified vehicle technician one to one to ask any specific questions you have regarding the basic maintenance of your vehicle.

I can still remember the excitement of passing my test age 17 and buying my first car for £500. It was a Renault 4 with a funny gear stick that came out of the dashboard. My dad was a writer and worked for the super car classics magazine at the time. So he regularly had some amazing sports cars on the drive for him to test drive and write about. My Renault 4 looked rather embarrassing next to these beauties, but I took the chance to spend more time with my dad and learn some basic maintenance techniques. I could already change a tyre and wanted to understand how the engine worked. Several weekend and after school sessions later and I could check the oil level, tyre pressure and treads, check and change spark plugs, brake fluid and discs and a whole host of other maintenance type tasks.

I'm not a mechanic, but that first year of car ownership taught me a lot of things that I have since taken for granted. I enjoy having a basic knowledge of cars, as it makes the bi-annual trip to the garage a lot less daunting. I like the confidence it gives me, doing the various checks before a long journey. Especially now that I have children, whose safety I take very seriously! It's only recently, working for Martin Gilbert's some of my friends, both male and female have confessed their lack of confidence with their own cars and how they would like to know more. We would like to try and simplify your car for you, so you know your way around the basics and therefore help to reduce the risk of major failures. Regular maintenance should also help reduce your annual motoring costs by keeping your vehicle in its best condition.

All that said every time I turn off into an industrial estate to get to the garage or similar I still get that strange feeling of being in an alien environment. I don't know what it is about industrial estates that can be so intimidating, but they are not the most welcoming of places. Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs in Abingdon would like to try and change that perception and make a visit to the Radley Road industrial Estate in Abingdon less daunting. We hope that you will be pleasantly surprised at how clean, friendly and welcoming the place is. A family run business opened by Martin Gilbert in 1982, now run by two of his children Richard and Wendy, the family ethics are still very strong. A member of the Retail motor industry federation 'Trust My Garage' scheme and the foxy lady drivers club, we really care about every customer as an individual.

We want to help people feel more confident around their own cars and when dealing with garages. So, Richard Gilbert has agreed to trial a series of free car maintenance workshops. Once a month in the evening after the garage has closed from 7pm till 8pm, so people can come in after work. You shouldn't need to go into a garage to get some of the simpler maintenance tasks done, although we are always happy to help at Martin Gilbert's and will change a light bulb for the cost of bulb or a wiper blade for the cost of the blade if you find it just too fiddly.

Classes will be held at:

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs Ltd, Radley Road Industrial Estate, Abingdon, Oxfordshire OX14 3RY.

Greens into cup's last 16

KIDLINGTON sent fans home dizzy with delight on Sunday after they beat Knaphill 3-1 to secure a place in the fourth round of the FA Vase at Yarnton Road.

The Greens seemed fired up from the start for the game and dominated possession in the early stages with Anaclet Odhiambo and Ryan Brooks both testing the Knaphill keeper.

In the 18th minute, the home side's patience was rewarded as Gabbidon fed the ball in to Odhiambo and the forward chipped home to open the scoring.

However, the Greens were very lucky to maintain their lead after the Woking-based side charged forwards and Kidlington 'keeper Sam Warrell had to fend off a vicious effort in the 27th minute.

Things seemed too good to be true for the home side just seven minutes later after Henry Owen rose highest to head home after Eric Odhiambo knocked in a corner.

In the second half, Knaphill camped in the Kidlington half and they got their dues on 78 minutes, with Danny Taylor chipping the ball home for 2-1.

Although, Eric Odhiambo then put the game to bed, running with the ball from his own half to round the 'keeper before tapping home the clincher to seal the win.

Oxford reward upcoming starlet after nine years of youth football

AN Oxford United Women midfielder has signed her first professional deal with the club after joining 10 years ago.

Sophie Baker, 19, has been with the club since she was in the under 10's development side and has since progressed to the first team squad.

Baker began her playing career at the age of five for Abingdon Youth Boys before moving on to the Saxton Rovers Boys and then joined the Oxford United's Centre of Excellence.

She progressed through each age group from the Under 12's to the Under 17's and then has since been on to the WSL development team.

Sophie said: "I was so excited to be able to play with girls like me when I was 10. I just remember seeing my future coaches stood there with a clipboard judging my every move!

"I wanted to prove myself so much, little did I know this was going to last 9 years."

Her new manager Les Taylor said: "Sophie fully deserves the chance to impress in WSL2. She has been an outstanding prospect all the way through the age groups.

'She has a great attitude, works very hard for the team and just as importantly, listens and wants to keep improving as a player."

Baker joins the first team on the back of a strong season for the first team who finished fifth in the table.
